Ventriloquist Act And Selections By Romoff Featured

Delayed Act By Gerhardt And Trickey Given; Violinists' Talent Lauded

Keith Trickey and Eddie Gerhardt are scheduled to present their ventriloquist act in assembly today, according to Harold Watson, who is in charge.

The act was set for last week's assembly, but due to illness of Gerhardt it was postponed. Those who have seen the stunt say that it should make a hit before the college.

Louis Romoff, violin wonder from Anaheim high school, will play several numbers. Romoff is considered by many to be one of the best student violinists in Southern California.

Other numbers which include student talent are being arranged by the assembly committee.

Bachelor Club Enjoys Week-end In Newport

A week-end party at two cottages in Newport was enjoyed by ten Bachelors and their guests. This retreat is an annual event, prior to the electing of new members into the club.

The group, chaperoned by Walter Scott, arrived at the cottage early in the evening. Playing cards, exploring the town and various scrabbles constituted the entertainment. The excitement ceased long enough to allow the boys to go to bed at 6:30 a. m. Frequent interruptions made it difficult to get much sleep.

The half starved bachelors got up in time to eat a breakfast served by Jimmy Snow and Lawrence Hogue at the fashionable hour of 9:30. The men amused themselves in any and every possible way for the next several hours, and then started for home.

Lion's Constitution To Be Approved Soon

The names and the constitution of Santa Ana's Junior Lions' club have been submitted to the national club for inspection and approval. The local members expect to have their charter within two weeks.

During the meeting held last Monday evening at Ketner's confectionery, a permanent board of directors was elected. Those chosen to serve are Alan Wisner, Fred Humiston and William Jerome.

The arrangements for the parade on Armistice Day were definitely set, and according to their plans, it is expected to be quite large.

After the business of the meeting the boys became almost too peppy, and came near being politely shown out of Ketner's.

Caravan To Glendale

LATE BULLETIN

The Santa Ana-Gendale foot ball game will be played on Friday instead of Saturday, due to the U. S. C.-Stanford game Saturday, according to an announcement issued by school authorities yesterday.

A caravan, under the direction of Willard White, will leave the college soon after noon, it is planned. No classes will meet after 12 o'clock.

A policeman will lead the caravan provided twenty-five cars are present. White asks that students sign up on the bulletin board as soon as possible.

Melva Fletcher Is Algol Art Editor

Melva Fletcher has been appointed art editor of the Algol, according to Eleanor Turner, commissioner of the Algol. Her assistants have not as yet been chosen.

The Mary Smart studio has been awarded the contract for taking the individual pictures, while the groups photographs will be made by Robert Quail.

Mrs. Northercross is the editorial advisor of the Algol, and Miss Donaldson will supervise the art work.

Mr. Williams will take charge of printing the yearbook and Mr. Beeman will see to the business of publishing the Algol.

That the theme of the Algol is to remain a dark secret until the day of distribution, was announced by Miss Turner. The staff is already working hard to make the book the best ever although it may have to be published for seventy-five per cent of the original amount estimated.

Glee Clubs Planning Opera And Concert

This year the college glee clubs combined with those of the high school are planning to give an opera similar to Pinafore, the one given last year. The giving of a concert is likewise being planned.

For the first time in the history of Santa Ana junior college a mixed chorus has been organized. Its members are Evelyn Robb, Nada Smith Hill, Melva Fletcher, Thelma Stovall, Hazel Smith, Clark Brown, Floyd Martin, Moris Guyer, Jack Clark, and Doyle Stockton.

Mayor Purington Declares Nov. 8 As "Sousa's Day"

Sousa To Conduct High School Band; Student Admission Fifty Cents

Mayor Frank Purington has declared November 8, as Sousa's Day, in honor of Lieutenant Commander John Philip Sousa and his band.

In the concert that is to be given, the band will play a number of Sousa's own compositions, notably "A Study in Rhythms", "Minnesota", a new march, and his suite "At the Kings Court". Other selections will include "Prelude" and "Life and Death from the Wagner opera, "Tristan and Isolde", a selection from one of Victor Herbert's operas and the "Parade of the Gendarmes", by Lake. The Wagner numbers will be given special emphasis.

The concert will be presented in the high school auditorium at 3 o'clock.

It had been announced that Sousa will conduct the high school band during the intermission periods. The tickets are on sale at the Santa Ana Book Store arranged in three prices. Students fifty cents and adults one dollar and one dollar and a half.

"Round Table" Will Hold Session Here

Student delegates from fourteen junior colleges will congregate here on November 7, in an effort to help one another solve college problems.

Fraternities, athletics, and social events will be the main topics of discussion. Any problem, however, pertaining to college may be brought up for discussion. The students stand point will be used exclusively.

David Cherry, commissioner of forensics, issued the invitations and will preside over the major portion of the meeting.

Scarlet And Black Rooters Caps Here

Another new scarlet and black idea! The rooters caps have arrived and are now on sale for seventy cents each.

Practically all the junior colleges have adopted the idea of wearing rooter's caps to boost their school. These caps also make a splendid appearance on the bleachers at the football and basketball games.

Thirty-six caps have been ordered, reports George Tobias. First come, first served!

Sympathy Expressed

The students of Santa Ana college wish to extend their sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Cole on the death of their son, Donald Cole, a member of this student body.

Future Editor Born

LATE BULLETIN

It's a girl—and a future member of the Don staff too, for her father is C. C. Stewart, faculty advisor of the Don.

This future Donna arrived at the Stewart home in the form of a seven pound baby girl last Monday evening.

The new arrival has not as yet been named but the Don staff unites in suggesting Cecilia Clarence.

The staff and the student body extend their heartiest congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Stewart.

Beta Gamma Dinner Held Here Tonight

Members of the Beta Gamma, the activity club of junior college, will enjoy a dinner this evening at 6:30 in the cafeteria. Sterling Barnett, president, is in charge of arrangements.

The O. K'ers have not made definite arrangements for the next meeting, but it will be held in about a month. The last meeting was a bridge party at H. A. Scott's home last Saturday.

A wild treasure hunt through Santa Ana, Anaheim, and Garden Grove, was the feature of the Press Club party last Friday at Frances Brown's, in Anaheim. It was the first party of the year and was declared a perfect success by all who were present. November 23 is the tentative date set by Adelaide Mueller for the next meeting. It is probable that this meeting will be a dinner dance at Ketner's.

I Scream!

Edwin Gerhardt and George Tobias are responsible for the college's latest voice exerciser. This yell was first tried out in the assembly last week and it went over "big". Now all of you readers cut out this yell and learn it.

I scream! You scream!
We all scream for our team!
Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!

I holler! You holler!
We all holler Alma Mater!
Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!

Y. W. Women Stage Old Fashioned Dance

Hobes and sailors, Irish wash women and flapper fannies danced to the strains of the Virginia reel in an old barn at Hewe's park last night.

The occasion was the Y. W. C. A. Hallowe'en party. Fifty J. C. girls in nondescript costumes met at the Y-hut at 7:30 for the ride in a big truck to Hewe's park.

The rest of the evening was a "conglomeration" of stunts, fortune telling, and "eats". Those in charge of arrangements for the frolic were Lena May Willsey, head of the decorations committee; Catherine Jessup, entertainment; and Marion Bruner, refreshments.

Three Chosen To Determine Site Of New S. B. Center

Helen Richards, Ray Lindman, Eleanor Turner Officers To Choose Site

Helen Richards, Eleanor Turner, and Ray Lindman, have been appointed by the executive board to determine the site for a student center.

The general purpose of a student center is to provide a place where students can congregate and discuss matters without disturbing the classes. A bulletin board, benches and gravel walks will be provided and perhaps in the future the student office will be located there.

The school board has agreed to supply the benches, walks and bulletin boards, and it is hoped that other clubs will show their interest in the new project by building traditional benches.

Junior College Press Convention Friday

The California Junior College Press Association will meet for the first time this year on Friday, November 2, at 10 o'clock. The meeting will be held at the San Bernardino junior college.

In a letter received from John Bright of San Bernardino, the Don editor was asked to send papers and news series which he wished to enter for competition. The issue of October 24, was chosen to be entered.

Representatives of the Don who will attend the convention are Adelaide Mueller, Ray Lindman, Rodney Chamberlain, and Jimmy Roach.

French Club Will Observe Saint's Day

Celebrating All Saint's Day, the Bon Matin club met at James Cafe this morning at 7 o'clock for their regular bi-monthly meeting. A appropriate Hallowe'en atmosphere was carried out through the efforts of Madaline Morelock and several helpers by a Hallowe'en menu for which menu cards of Hallowe'en design were made.

The Bon Matin club is writing a book entitled "The Story of Josephine," at each meeting. The first chapter, entitled "A Picture of Josephine," was written at the first meeting of the club, and was read to the members at this morning's meeting, by the club historian, Monsieur Stephenson. The second chapter, "Josephine at Home", was compiled today, each member contributing a few French sentences about Josephine and her home life.

Considerable interest is present among the members of this club concerning this character about which the book is written, for Josephine is a very good friend of Monsieur Trickey, the club president.

THE STUDENT CENTER

A student center situated in the grove of trees east of the J. C. building is practically assured at the present time as far as finance goes. The board of education has authorized the student body to submit plans for the project, the expense being covered by the board.

Although a student committee has been appointed on this matter it is our thought that the idea be placed before the students for suggestions. As matters stand now the board will give us a number of benches, a bulletin board, and several loads of gravel.

It is the committee's idea that various clubs and other organizations be allowed to place traditional benches in this student center. However, this must be done by the club itself, as the benches received from the board will be dedicated to the student body as a whole.

Your cooperation is asked in all parts of this undertaking and all suggestions should be placed directly before Helen Richards, chairman of the student center committee.

FOOTBALL

Our win over Long Beach last Saturday has much more significance than most students realize—it ties us with Fullerton for first place in the league. Which all means that we have a 50-50 chance to win the league.

Let us look to see what the league championship would mean. It would mean an almost certain win in the play-off as the Eastern Division is quite weak. It might mean a trip to Hawaii for our football fellows.

It would mean an increase in the publicity of the school, an increase in the college spirit, an increase in the student body funds.

In fact it would be the biggest thing that ever happened to Santa Ana college—and that without reserve.

The relation of the student body as a whole to this probability is quite important for on us is centered a good deal of the success or failure. We need to support our team to the utmost in the three remaining games.

A REAL OPPORTUNITY

It is not very often that the students of the college are extended such an opportunity as is to be extended to them by the visit of Sousa's band to Santa Ana.

It would be a shame for anyone to miss this opportunity—yet the majority will. Might we dare to say that not ten per cent of the college students will be present at this concert? We hope that this estimate is far wrong.

ROUND TABLE

Santa Ana is to be host to the junior colleges of Southern California as a round table discussion on Thursday of next week. Although this does not actively involve the college as a whole, yet it should be important to many of its members.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss junior college problems and their solutions. Therefore any student in charge of a part of the college life should be present to give and take suggestions.

On the student body as a whole the responsibility should be impressed. Our guests will begin to arrive in the afternoon. Give them the "glad hand" and help to create in their minds a desire to come to Santa Ana again.

ADVERTISING

Just a short word about patronage of the advertisers in the Don. Men who give their money to run ads in a school paper expect and expect rightfully a return in trade from the students. If he sees that he does not obtain this desired result, he discontinues his ad, thus injuring the paper, and the students as a whole.

This applies to the Don more than to most newspapers for the advertising is the sole means of support. The Don is not taking any money from your student body fund, and your appreciation of this fact should be expressed in this matter of support.

Memories

It was only a little red shack with green doors and little windows that let in the brilliant sunlight but it seemed like Paradise to me. The little path thru the woods and green grass to the door was a veritable road to Olympus. The beautiful meadow in which arose my dream-house was fringed with thick, cool woods and it will ever remain in my memory as a reminder of happier days. That little babbling brook that crossed thru the clearing and gurgled out of sight in the forest to end in the old mill and swimming hole was Nature's gift to me and I sure appreciated it on hot days. The mountains in the distance covered with snow surrounded the valley in which I live. The blue dome of heaven seemed to rest upon the mountain-rim of the valley. Every day I came to the shack to study and learn of peoples and places of which I had only imagined and dreamed. Here lived and taught an old, kindly man who had travelled and suffered in what we called the outside world and had come back to his valley for peace and comfort in which to pass his declining years. It was his teachings that have helped to fame and fortune and I will be in debt to the Hermit and his Little Red School House, which we called the Shack.

A Frosh's Letter To Her Diary

My dear:

College is going from bad to worse and from good to best. I know that sounds funny, so I will explain. My studies are getting worse every day, but otherwise I am having the best time ever.

Not content with the ordinary every day torture, Mademoiselle Watson last week conceived the idea of inflicting us with more tests.

To change to a more cheerful subject, this college is going fine, and I'm sure having a good time. We have a real football team this year, and the games sure are full of spirit and pep.

There is a good bit of class spirit too, but dominating the school is a feeling of friendliness that I sure like. The sophomores don't make us freshmen feel so insignificant as they might, but instead make us feel that we are all one happy family.

No, foolin, the Santa Ana J. C. sure is a keen college.

Variated Thinkings

Oh boy! What a day for a moider! Hurray for All!—Down by the vinegar works under the old hepple tree! —"And How"—quoth the Injun red-skin. What is so fair as a day in June —Muddy waters. "I'm a baritone, would you like to hear me sing 'All Alone,'" said the rabbit as he scurried squeak, thundering yelp.—"Hare I atm," said the rabbit as he scurried away in one long leap, and hare I go." "It was a sad day for me when Gene left my protecting arms to marry his widow," said Mrs. Tuna in a tearful, tearing voice.

Wake up junior, your in a trance, my mother sayeth as she awakened me with a shower of cold water and garbage. And I found out it was but a dream and not a melody from out of the sky. So I had to write it down to my own words and you will find the tune on page 5.

Yours for better features and less gloom.

Campus Chatter

The J. C. students were glad to see Jack Casey back on the campus last Tuesday.

Addie: "Oh! What a beautiful car, Sterling, but how do you keep it from freezing?"

Sterling: "Oh I have the most wonderful device for that called the muffler."

A wind is blowing, around the campus, the news that Wendell Jordan is the "secret sorrow" of many of our fair young women. And they're not all freshmen either.

We are wondering why Willard White is seen on the road to Anaheim so much, nowadays.

It certainly was too bad that there weren't more girls present at the W. A. A. party last week. Some very clever skits were enjoyed. Margaret Glenn furnished considerable amusement with her tumbling acts and other (?) things.

Several of the fellows in physics 4A declare they would like to have been in Mr. Russell's place when he was asked to test some "cider" a while back. He said he didn't taste it with his tongue, however. Believe it or not.

According to the story which Mr. Mustol told the orchestra, the November election may have to be postponed on account of the serious illness of Al Smith. Mr. Mustol says Smith has contracted double pneumonia from standing on a wet platform so long.

Joy Wilson Sees Prince Of Wales

Local Student Travels Thru Scotland And England On Vacation

"Oh, he's simply adorable." Meaning the most talked of man in England, the Prince of Wales. This was Janet Wilson's opinion of that distinguished person, when she saw him in England this summer. Janet enjoyed a trip to England and to Scotland, her birthplace.

Janet, with her sister and mother, left from Montreal in June. They visited Helensburgh, Kilmarnock, and Glasgow, where they saw the University of Glasgow and the famous cathedrals. The cathedrals of London, Westminster Abbey, the Marble Arch, the parliamentary buildings, Hampton Court and Kew Gardens were thrilling sights for the group. Not knowing that the Marble Arch is a gateway for only the King and Queen to pass through, Janet and her friends dashed through when the policeman opened it. The famous old Drury Lane theater was also visited.

The group spent several weeks at Arran where they enjoyed all the sports of the Scotch people. Tennis, skiing, golf, hockey, swimming, and dancing, were enjoyed. The girls were initiated into the game of crickets and were taught to dance the Highland fling.

Returning to Quebec, the Wilsons spent a few days with an aunt and uncle. The trip to California included Montreal, Chicago, Salt Lake, San Francisco, and wonderful sights in the Royal Gorge.

Mentioning Music

Kreisler exclusive Victor Artist will give a concert Friday evening, November 9, at the Long Beach Municipal auditorium. This concert will be presented by the Long Beach Philharmonic course under the direction of L. D. Frey. Student tickets are 50c and may be purchased of Miss Martin.

Gounod's Definition

Charles Gounod, whose opera, "Faust", is so frequently performed, was defined an orchestral conductor in the following manner, "The conductor of the orchestra is the ambassador of the master's thought." This is a highly clever description, and the weighty importance of the conductor's task becomes readily apparent therefrom.

"Without enthusiasm nothing good can be accomplished in art."—Schumann.

"Has talent the right to take the same freedom as does genius. Yes, but one loses where the other triumphs."—Schumann.

"We sometimes lose sight of the fact that it has taken centuries to develop the organ to its present state. It is interesting to trace this evolution from the first single hollow reed sounded by the breath of man."—Helen W. Ross.

Other Colleges

Golf is now being offered as a new sport to the women of Whittier college. The fees are relatively small and clubs can be rented at the course.

College credit is to be given the upper classmen.

At Modesto junior college all physical education absences must be made up by 1 hour after school. If not made up two hours absences are charged against students.

Clipping form "The Eagle", Santa Barbara junior college.

All students who have failed to pay their student body dues are advised that unless the ten dollars is paid by next Wednesday their names will appear in next week's paper with the statement that they have failed to support the student body.

Seven new faculty members have been added to the staff of teachers at the Fullerton junior college and union high school, making a total of 70 teachers. The new faculty were given a reception at the Mission Inn, Fullerton by the remaining faculty, last week.

From Compton junior college—"Silver Sheet".

The student book store and fountain is run by the student bodies of the junior college and high school, for the use of their respective students.

Attendance Urged At Third Noon Concert

Junior college students are urged by the music department to attend the third of a series of musical appreciation programs, broadcast by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, through the courtesy of the Standard Oil Company, which will be received in the music room, Thursday, from 11:30 to 12 o'clock.

According to Miss Martin, head of the department, students may bring their lunches to the music room and hear the music.

The programs are educational in nature and will be given every week at the same hour throughout the school year. Last week the contributions of Bach and Handel were discussed and several selections of each were played by the orchestra. The radio is furnished each week by a different radio corporation, arrangements being made by Mr. Hammond, principal.

"Hootchy-Kootchy"

"Hootchy-Kootchy" — what magical words those are—especially when they are used for the pass words in a treasure hunt—and more especially in one "thrown" by the Press club.

Let us go along with the bunch and see what happens. Our first stop is James' cafe where we are requested to "buy a drink". One gulp and we are off to the next place and so on till we reach the treasure in Frances Brown's chicken house. That is, if we are able to get past the fireman at Garden Grove who did not seem to "take" to the hootchy-kootchy idea. But Madelyn Morlock was able to burn even the fireman up with her back-talk—and oi, such language.

Or maybe we get off on the wrong track and follow Ruby Gray's method who—blushes of shame—walked blissfully into the Santa Ana fire station instead of the one at Garden Grove and surprised the unsuspecting, pajama-clad firemen with coy cries of "Hootchy-Kootchy".

Or maybe we arrive just in time to see Professor Cecil Claire Stewart strut out covered with chicken feathers and proudly holding a box of candy before his beaming face.

A rush for membership in the Press club is expected, especially if another treasure hunt is announced. And next time Mr. Stewart and new Ford cars will be declared ineligible.

The teeth, the teeth, where are the teeth? Such was the cry aroused upon the practice field the other afternoon. It is reported, however, that no harm was done. Two teeth which are the property of Ed Adams seemed to have strayed from their ordinary lodgings by physical force. Edward was very much perturbed until his two little pets were found.

Parisian Patty

Dear mother:

I spent the entire afternoon looking for ideas you could use in sister Sally's school clothes. I found some awfully clever little outfits that really weren't terribly expensive.

One adorable sport ensemble was a jacket suit made of burgundy basket weave tweed. Instead of a blouse there was a beige and red sweater. Bandanas are still popular and a beige square was used with this suit. Sally would look awfully sweet in an outfit like that. Of course, you could use silk blouses with it too. If you do, make the blouse of light colored silk because light blouses are very new. I saw some ducky blouses made with girly hip lines and full jabat fronts. With that deep wine red she would want brown shoes instead of black this season.

That would be a serviceable outfit for school, I think. Sally likes blouses and skirts so well that you ought to buy her a velvet blouse and satin skirt. I saw a beautiful one the other day; the blouse was yellow printed velvet and the skirt was black satin.

Another thing—you might be able to get wine-colored kid slippers to match that jacket suit; they seem to be the latest fad in shoes.

Give Dad my love and thank him for that last check.

Your daughter,
Patty

Freshman Overcome By Fumigating Gas

Every Thursday morning 63 Dons are mailed to persons who are not Santa Ana junior college students or teachers. For 13 cents a week in postage our school paper, advertising our college, is sent to other colleges, to graduates, and to friends in nine different states.

Of the 63 papers, 32 are exchanged for publications from other colleges. Twenty-seven of these are California institutions; the other five are located in Arizona, Nevada, Texas, Illinois, and Michigan.

Only four of the ten former students who receive the "Don" each week are in California. Five are scattered from Arizona to Michigan, and one is a student at Harvard university, Cambridge, Massachusetts,—just a matter of three thousand miles from Santa Ana.

Santa Ana Defeats Long Beach

Dons Trim Vikings By One Tally;
Game Hotly Contested Throughout;
Visitors Bewildered By Don Plays

Don Line Is The Outstanding Feature Of Game

In a game featured by brilliant plays and stubborn defense, the Santa Ana Dons were able to turn back the tide carrying the Long Beach Vikings.

The lone tally coming in the first quarter was a result of a brilliant 35-yard dash by Rust, which placed the ball on the 1-yard line, from where Norton scored on second smash through the center of the line.

The remainder of the game was a slight disgrace to the Dons, because of the loose playing done at times. The fumbles especially mared the spectacular running of Norton and Rust and almost proved to be costly to the Dons. Had it not been for some fleet-footed chap, Warner by name, the Vikings would have undoubtedly done more than scared their opponents.

Hylton and Warner played well in the line, many times busting in and throwing the Long Beach men for costly losses. Rust, Norton and Goodbody did some classy toting, the latter especially doing some fine work in the last few minutes of play, taking the ball and single handed working it to the 1-inch mark from his own 40-yard line. At this time it was that the Dons were eventually robbed of a touchdown. The referee placed the ball back to the 1-inch line mark from where Long Beach punted out of danger.

Fletcher did some classy work for the visitors, several times breaking away for a substantial gain. His passes were also a feature of the contest.

Dons To Trek To Glendale Friday

Friday the Dons will journey to Glendale to engage the Jaycee eleven in a game of legal assault and battery. In other words the teams will fight it out on the gridiron in an effort to determine which school will take another step higher in conference rating.

The game is being played on Friday afternoon because of the fact that on Saturday U. S. C. is playing Stanford at the Coliseum and to give the students as well as members of the team an opportunity to witness the game.

First plans were for the game to be held on Saturday morning but Glendale balked for some reason or other so Santa Ana consented to play on Friday. School will be dismissed at 12 o'clock and the caravan will leave from the front of the building at 12:30. Oh, yes there is going to be a caravan, and rumor hath it that it will be a greater success than the previous one.

The Dons are out to win from Glendale and despite the fact that the dope on paper has the Dons slated to win, no preparations are being slighted, neither is Coach Cook allowing his men to get overconfident. Even though the Dons beat Long Beach and Long Beach trimmed the Glendale gridders in a surprise game, the Dons realize that Glendale is not set up and they are working hard to win. Another win will put the local team right up at the very top and if Fullerton should by fluke get nosed out in her game on Friday the Dons will practically have the pennant cinched.

Tennis players are now practicing only once a week. The tournament is progressing, and Mary Ford still is Queen, after defeating several challengers.

HOW THEY COMPARED

SPORT SHORTS

Royce has been making his presence felt out on the gridiron the last two or three weeks; Edson has been playing guard on the defense against the "first string" so far the boys haven't been able to keep Edson out of the backfield smearing up the runners almost before they get started. He's working hard for a berth on the team, and it looks like he's going to get it.

Kenny Clapp, Anaheim, is playing as good a brand of football as one can find. Kenny holds down one of the wing positions as substitute and in the game Saturday he smeared lots of Long Beach attempts to circle his flank. He seemed to thrive on the interference that came his way and he piled them up every time.

"Ab" Harris, chunky blonde back field man only got into the game for a few minutes Saturday, but he did pretty well. Ab hasn't been in many games this season, but he will be in some of the games from now on. You want to watch that boy when he gets going.

With Bill Dugger and Bob McLean in the lineup the hopes for a championship are rising strongly.

It looks like the students are beginning to get the old spirit. Every game there appears to be a larger group of rooters. (?)

"Tantalizers" Bow To "Pollywogs"

Last Wednesday, Pauline Neddermeyer's team, otherwise known as the "Pollywogs", defeated Ruth Tantalizer's team, which is also known as the "Tantalizers", with a score of 22 to 18.

The "Tantalizers" took the lead after the first quarter was well under way, when Helen Richards made a successful free throw. By the end of the quarter the "Pollywogs" had evened the score which was then 4-4.

During the second quarter the "Pollywogs" continued to gain resulting in a score of 10-5 in their favor at the end of the half. In the last half the "Tantalizers" rallied, but too late to overcome their defeat.

The lineup:

Pollywogs (22)	(18) Tantalizers
Brown (14)	F (5) Richards
Ball (8)	F (11) Prather
	F (2) Stewart
Neddermeyer	JC Jessup
Glenn	SS Tantlinger
Gray	SS Goodrich
Bruner	G Willsey
Wilson	G Knox
Bingham	G Griset

The game between the "Tantalizers" and "Dodo" Harman's team was not played last Monday night as scheduled, but will be played tonight. At the same time the "Pollywogs" and "Toots" Staples team will play.

There will be no game Friday due to the football game.

Three Schools Aro Down To Zero In Standing

	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Santa Ana	1	0	1	1.000
Fullerton	1	0	1	1.000
Long Beach	1	1	0	.500
Pasadena	0	0	2	.000
Compton	0	1	1	.000
Glendale	0	1	1	.000

Somebody has said, "Life's all a muddle of affairs". Whether or not this is true is not known, but the league standing in the Western division is most certainly in a grand mixup.

In figures, Santa Ana and Fullerton are tied for first place with a win and a tie game each.

Next to them Long Beach stands with one game lost and one tally in the won column. Pasadena stands next with two tied games while Glendale and Compton are running neck and neck for the cellar position with a lost game and a tied game each.

Saturday Fullerton played a 7 to 7 tie with Glendale's Dynamiters. Compton and Pasadena also played a tie game without even working the scorekeeper. The score was 0 to 0.

And then there is the story of the Scotchman who needed some brickwork done on a house and wanted to know where he could get in touch with those Free-Masons—he must have figured that was a Scottish Rite.
